

Does your organisation need to be more responsive to market opportunity, regulatory pressures or legislation change?

If your business depends on technology you need a flexible IT Services partner.

Ajilon is a local and fast growing IT and Business Consultancy that enables business transformation by delivering complex programmes and improving enterprise IT services. We own the outcome from planning to delivery to operation.

Ajilon works with you to structure flexible initiatives, programmes, projects and services tailored to your business needs that deliver benefits early and often. We can share the risk of delivery – we care about your success, and do what we say we’re going to do.

Our People

Our team of experienced practitioners know that you value certainty of outcome and cost efficiencies. We pride ourselves in providing you an objective, specialist perspective to develop and implement the technology that meets your unique business needs.

What we do

We work with you to deliver the full lifecycle of IT and business services, from strategy, planning, design, build and operation.

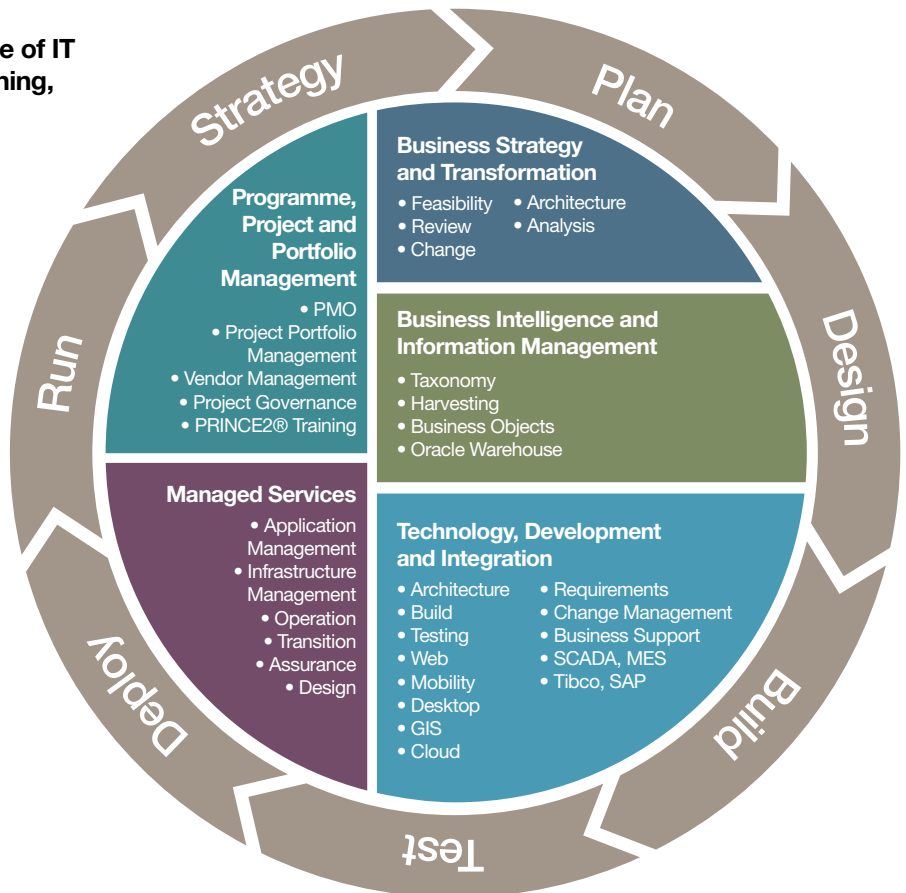

Business Strategy and Transformation Consulting: Assess organisational capabilities, roadmaps and alignment of technology, programmes and business strategies.

Information Management and Business Intelligence: Ensure the right information is delivered to the right audience to allow business decisions to be made.

Technology, Development and Integration: We help you leverage your investment in existing systems whilst taking advantage of new technologies. Our rigorous approach to testing gives you confidence in system quality.

Managed Services: We provide responsive managed services that deliver certainty of quality and cost that adapt quickly to business and technology changes.

Programme, Project and Portfolio Management: We have a proven track record for delivering programmes and projects successfully. Our focus on delivery of required outcomes, through experienced teams and a pragmatic approach, delivers the benefits your organisation needs.
