What is PRINCE2®?

PRINCE2® (Projects IN Controlled Environments) is a structured approach to managing projects. It was first developed by the UK Government in 1989 and has now become the preferred project management method, being used in over 50 countries worldwide. It is an excellent generic, best-practice approach suitable for the management of all types of projects.

What are the aims of the PRINCE2® Practitioner Course?

The PRINCE2® Practitioner Course provides delegates with a deep understanding of this project management method, resulting in a firm basis for its application in your organisation. It leads to the PRINCE2® Practitioner level exam and certification.

Who should attend?

Project management professionals who need to master this method and use it on their projects, while also acquiring a globally recognised certification. The course is also ideal for anyone hoping to become a PRINCE2® Trainer or consultant. Candidates who have some experience in managing projects are encouraged to attend this course.

What is the structure of the course?

The Practitioner course is 4.5 days. The course structure comprises classroom instructions, discussions, group exercises, case studies and exam preparation. The Practitioner level is about the application of PRINCE2®. Up to 2 hours work is required each evening to consolidate the day's information.

Are there any course pre-requisites?

Applicants must have passed their Foundation exam prior to sitting the Practitioner exam.
