

The best Project managers have always known that successful projects don't just happen – they are the product of competent people working within sound management structures. The 2008 Gershon Review found that many Australian Government organizations failed to realize the benefits from their investments in projects. The report specifically identified Project Management as a key area in which skills needed to be upgraded.

A very large number of private and public sector organizations have recognized the value in adopting the PRINCE2®* (Projects IN Controlled Environments) approach to deliver projects. PRINCE2 is an internationally recognized project management method, which provides a robust but flexible framework for the management of all types of projects. The method has grown organically by adopting best-practices from a wide variety of projects across many industries. PRINCE2 is now a de facto standard for managing successful projects and is being used by organizations in more than 50 countries around the world.

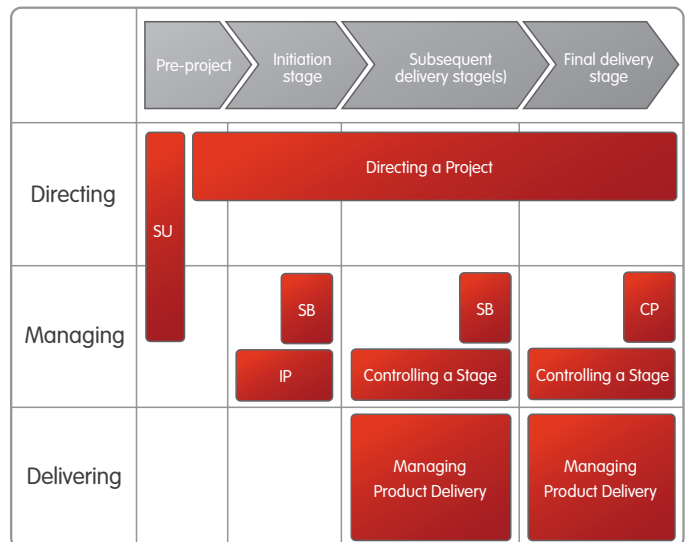

What we offer

PRINCE2® Overview: A ½ day or 1 day overview to provide busy executives and line managers with an overview of the method and its applicability to their environment.

PRINCE2® Foundation Course with Exam: A 3 ½ day course providing delegates familiarity of the terminology and an understanding of the method. Ideal for people working on, or with, project teams using PRINCE2®.

PRINCE2® Practitioner Course and Exam: A 4 ½ day course providing participants with a deep understanding of the method and the ability to apply it on their projects. Ideal for people who need to master PRINCE2® and gain formal accreditation

Testimonial: “[The trainer] was fantastic and energy levels very high - excellent knowledge and great presentation skills.” Dragica Byrne (organisation withheld)

What this means for you

PRINCE2® is the international standard method for project management. It offers best-practice in project management, based on experience gained on literally hundreds of projects run globally. It provides organisations with:

- The confidence to introduce organisational change in a controlled manner
- Management by exception - defined triggers to alert busy executives to important deviations from the plan, without burdening them with non-essential information
- A focus on business benefits and the facility to identify and stop rogue projects before they develop a life of their own
- A clear understanding of roles and responsibilities within projects and the ability to manage resources and risks more effectively
- Real world experience and examples to make the training meaningful and relevant
- Application of the method to your particular environment and scenarios customised to your organisation
- Project Managers and team members holding a world-class certification in project management
